THE BRIEF.

- Build around the necessities for scope (keeping scope small)
- Looked at other webdev portfolios and found inspo
- Awwwards.com

A screenshot of a dark-themed website portfolio. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links: 01. About, 02. Experience, 03. Work, 04. Contact, and a 'Resume' button. Below the navigation is a large, bold title: "Brittany Chiang." followed by "I build things for the web." In the middle section, there's a bio: "I'm a Boston-based software engineer who specializes in building (and occasionally designing) exceptional digital experiences. Currently, I'm an engineer at Upstatement focused on building accessible, human-centered products." At the bottom, there's a "Get In Touch" button and social media icons for GitHub, LinkedIn, and Twitter.

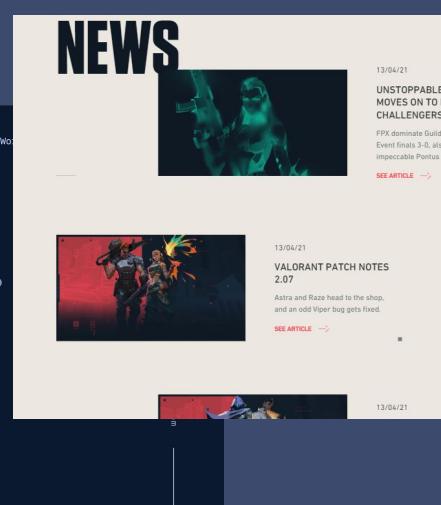

A screenshot of a light-themed website portfolio. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links: 01 home (which is highlighted in red), 02 writing, 03 notes, and 04 about. Below the navigation is a profile picture of Max Böck and the text "HELLO, MY NAME IS MAX". The main headline is "I make websites." Below the headline, there's a bio: "I'm lead front-end developer at Codista, a software studio in Vienna. I also write about the web on my Blog and on Twitter." At the bottom, there's a "Featured Posts" section with three cards: "Space Jam", "Webmention Analytics", and "The Return of the 90s Web".

DIRECTION.

- Simple//Bold//Clear designs
- Felt Achievable
- Few colours/Minimalistic

A dark-themed website for Brittany Chiang. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links to 'About', 'Experience', and 'Work'. Below the nav, her name 'Brittany Chiang.' is prominently displayed in large white font, followed by the tagline 'I build things for the web.' in a slightly smaller white font. On the left side, there's a sidebar with icons for GitHub, LinkedIn, and other social media. The main content area contains a bio: 'I'm a Boston-based software engineer who specializes in building (and occasionally designing) exceptional digital experiences. Currently, I'm an engineer at Upstatement focused on building accessible, human-centered products.' At the bottom, there's a 'Get In Touch' button.

A screenshot of a news website featuring a large 'NEWS' header. Below it, there are two news articles about Valorant. The first article is titled 'UNSTOPPABLE FPX MOVES ON TO EMEA CHALLENGERS PLAYOFFS' with a thumbnail of a character. The second article is titled 'VALORANT PATCH NOTES 2.07' with a thumbnail of two characters. Both articles have a timestamp of '13/04/21' and a 'SEE ARTICLE' link.

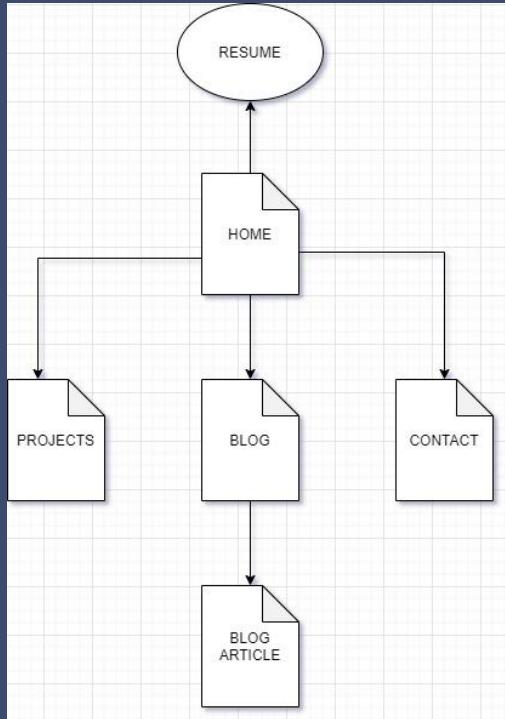

A screenshot of a blog post by Max Bock. The post is titled 'LO, MY NAME IS MAX' and features a large image of a person. It includes a share button with icons for Facebook, Twitter, and others. The post content starts with 'make we' and continues with 'lead front-end developer at Anna.' Below the post, there's a section for 'Featured Posts' with three cards: 'Space Jam', 'Webmention Analytics', and 'The Return of the 90s Web'.

WIREFRAME VIDEO

- Helped a lot to get it down
  - Less Ambiguity
  - Know what I'm working on next
- Figma was really good
  - Super easy mobile to desktop

The screenshot shows a dark-themed website for a developer named Walter Pham. At the top, there's a navigation bar with icons for Home, Projects, Blog, and Contact. Below the header, the name "WALTER PHAM." is displayed in large white capital letters. A central section features the text "DESIGN. GAMEDEV. WEB DEV." in bold white capital letters. A bio below states: "Howdy, I'm a Brisbane based web developer with a background in animation. I love collaborating on 72 hour game jams and sketching people." At the bottom, there's a "SKILLS." section with icons for HTML, CSS, GIT, JAVASCRIPT, FIGMA, and DESIGN. To the right of this section is a cartoon illustration of a person working on a laptop.

I thought today we would do a happy little picture. Take your time. Speed will come later. It looks so good, I might as well not stop. If what you're doing doesn't make you happy - you're doing the wrong thing. This is an example of what you can do with just a few things, a little imagination and a happy dream in your heart. Just make little strokes like that.

REVIEW.

- Challenges, underestimated how simple it looked
- Overestimated my own abilities but learnt a lot
- Love learning so it was all fun
- Designing the wireframe was also fun
  - No copy/pasting
  - Always wanting to do it “right”, reading lot of documentation on best practices
  - Trying to get the right scale on Chrome Inspect to test media query
  - Overlapping class names and repeating in partials
  - Not necessarily the best looking/designed website but it’s what i’ve learned so far
